PREMIER TO BEAR BRUNT

There will be few actual engagements during the visit of the Prince of Wales, from what can be learned at the present time. Premier Stanley Baldwin will probably carry the chief burden of public appearance. During the Prince's three-day stay in Ottawa, only Wednesday, August 3, will be taken up with official duties. His royal highness will at noon on that day unveil the altar of sacrifice in the memorial chamber of the Victory Tower. Later he will unveil the statue of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, recently erected on Parliament Hill and then visit the international poultry congress while it is in session. Premier Baldwin will address Canadian clubs in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. While in Ottawa both the Prince's and premier's parties will be guests at the government house.

In Ottawa, Mrs. Baldwin will address the Women's Canadian Club. Although no official confirmation can be secured, it is reported as quite likely that the Prince will visit the United States after stopping at his ranch at High River. It is known that his royal highness will pay official calls at Vancouver and Victoria.

After leaving Ottawa the two parties will go to Brockville where they will go aboard a private yacht and cruise through the Thousand Islands to Kingston where there will be an hour's reception. Then they will proceed by boat to Toronto. In Toronto there will be a state dinner as well as a Canadian Club luncheon, probably on Saturday, and Sunday the royal party will make an informal trip to Niagara Falls. Afterwards they will start for Banff.

From High River the Prince's plans are uncertain, largely depending upon his own wishes regarding the length of his stay. In any event, some program of official stops at Western Canadian cities will be worked out for the trip east.

The Calgary Stampede opened up on Monday morning the 11th day under clear skies and with a record attendance to watch the opening games, the big parade, which was more spectacular and colorful than ever.

Grain inspection totals at both Calgary and Edmonton for the period from August 1, 1926, to June 30, 1927 are slightly lower than for the corresponding period last season. At Calgary 20,267 cars of all grains were inspected in 1926-27 as compared with 24,440 cars in the same time in 1926-27 and at Edmonton the total for the period in 1926-27 is 19,991 cars as compared with 22,225 cars in the same time in 1926-27.

Twenty country elevators have been purchased by the Alberta Wheat Pool from the United Grain Company, Ltd. according to an announcement from the offices of the pool during the past week. These elevators are located at Carr, Carleton Place, Hughenden, Iricana, Magrath, Big Valley, Bashaw, Byemore, Elnora, Excel, Meeting Creek, Mecheche, Rosney, Rowley, Sibbald, Chinook, Youngstown, Cereal and Endiang. The Alberta Wheat Pool now owns a total of 135 elevators in the province and it is expected that this number will be increased to 150 before the 1927 crop begins to move to market.

Hail damage to crops this season to date has been lighter than usual, according to reports received at the office of the Hail Insurance Board of Alberta. While some districts have been visited by storms, damage has been largely of a local nature and in no case has a large area been affected. Owing to the excellent prospects for a heavy crop throughout the province a larger than usual amount of hail insurance has been written.

Further proof of the wealth of Alberta oil fields appears in the reports of two strikes made during the past week in wells in the Turner Valley field. At the Dalhousie No. 5 well a heavy flow of crude oil testing about 12 Beaume is reported at a depth of 4,325 feet, while at the Regent well, production of crude oil testing about 60 Beaume was reached at 2,265 feet.

Mrs. Theriault leaves shortly for a visit to her mother, in the eastern States. Miss Lorette will visit her grandmother at Orion, Sask., while her mother accompanies Mrs. Theriault on the trip.

The cattle trade between Britain and Canada has been unsatisfactory the past four months according to an Ottawa bulletin. Only about 7000 cattle were shipped to Britain in that time as compared with 28,000 in the same period in 1926. It is said that the buying power of the British consumer has been hit hard by the long and disastrous coal strike of last year.

A large part of the Wembley exhibition grounds have been purchased by a British film corporation which will proceed to turn it into the largest film studio in the world. Starting next January, 150 moving pictures are to be made each year, headquarters being the great Palace of Engineering, which covers 13½ acres and is believed the largest covered concrete building in the world.

News comes from far off Labrador that the Newfoundland Government is doing its best to save the eider duck from extinction. As a result, in a generation or two, it will be possible to buy real eiderdown quilts at the kind that went down in cradle history.

The proposal of the Bullock Club of London to lengthen the heads of bulldogs and thus lengthen their lives by relieving the strain on their breathing apparatus, is another human gesture of contempt for nature. Apparently man considers nothing beyond his powers.

A splendid attendance is reported at the various points in the southern part of the province recently visited by the tree-planting car of the Canadian Forestry Association. School children were keenly interested in the educational programme given, as were also many farmers who are improving and beautifying their homes by the planting of shelter belts.

The Yoho Highway, from Field to Golden was formally opened on Saturday, July 9th, with fitting ceremonies and with three members of the Canadian Government present on the occasion. Alberta's contribution from the Fort McMurray district to the salt produced in Canada in 1926 amounted to 2,587 tons according to the recent report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Of the total of 282,547 tons produced in the Dominion in 1926, 96.1 per cent. came from Ontario, the remainder being contributed by Alberta and Nova Scotia.

MRS. THERIAULT

Luxuriant Vegetation Is Typical Characteristic Of The Famous Peace River Country

The luxuriant vegetation of the country drained by the world famous Peace River in Northern Alberta and British Columbia, is one of its most remarkable characteristics, according to an exhaustive report recently published by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. Though the growing season is short, the rate of growth is rapid in midsummer, especially with respect to grasses, cereals, vegetables, shrubs and smaller plants. There are no barren or desert areas. The nearest approach to any natural lack of vegetation is sometimes seen on high areas of open prairies in exceptionally dry seasons, when the native upland hay is sometimes short and light in consequence. The prevailing impression of the landscape during summer months is one of abundant greenness.

Trees, shrubs, wild fruits and flowers abound, but the most striking form of native vegetation is probably the grasses.

Everywhere except in the dense woods the ground is clothed with some form of pasture. On the open prairies the native upland grasses can be made into hay of excellent quality. The marshes, edges of ponds and wet meadows produce heavy yields of smooth grass which, though much coarser than the upland varieties, makes a hay of fair quality and excellent keeping qualities. Several varieties of legumes are native to the district, the most prolific of which are the sweet vetch and pea roots. They grow in great profusion in lightly wooded areas and flourish after fires, even though the soil has been injured for other crops.

While much publicity has been given to the prairies of the Peace River country by far the greater portion of its area is wooded, says the report. The only commercial tree of note is the white spruce, excellent stands of which are found in heavily wooded areas from the headwaters of the many tributary streams to the mouth of the Peace River. Closely associated with the white spruce, especially on the higher ground, is the aspen poplar. This spruce-poplar type prevails exclusively in the Peace and Tanana. It is found on poorly drained areas, balsam poplar (balm of Gilead) in many valleys and lodgepole pine on sandy and gravelly elevations. It is widely scattered, while some balsam fir is found in the mountain ranges. The prevailing shrubbery and undergrowth consists of shrubby willows, which border many of the lesser streams and shallow lakes and ponds, and of alder. These are augmented in many sections by the bushes of red raspberries, highbush cranberries and saskatoons, native fruits of excellent quality. The growth of these shrubs is very rapid and when associated with seedling spruce and aspen they recover a burnt-over area into woods again in the course of a few years.

Extensive and excellent portions of the whole country consists of copious or park-like areas in which patches of light open woods alternate with grassy, tree-free tracts of varying extent. These park lands comprise the Peace River country, the open prairies having been practically all disposed of some time ago. While more land is involved in their development, it cannot be said to be a formidable task, and the land, once improved, is of the very highest fertility.

While a change of climate in any district is a much disputed question it cannot be denied that the clearing up and draining of wooded and wet areas permits of an earlier and hence safer season. The introduction of earlier maturing varieties of seeds still further reduces the hazard of injury by frost to growing crops. Bearing these factors in mind and considering the prevailing favorable climate and luxuriant vegetation, as observed over a period of a century and a quarter it is safe to assume, declares the report, that the conclusion, a chapter on climate and vegetation, that the Peace River country will ultimately be one of the world's great grain-producing areas.

Free Clinics For The Farmer

Public Health Measure Is Needed For The Rural Districts

Free clinics, at which the farmer could receive free medical advice, have been suggested as a needed public health measure by the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada through President John A. Stenmen. He declares that medical service is unobtainable except at high cost by many country people throughout the province.

Aside from the question of the actual clinics themselves, the necessity of paying attention to the question of public health among the rural sections of the Dominion's population has recently been becoming more and more apparent.

No portion of the population suffers more acutely from the ravages of preventable disease than the farmer. To get actual facts and figures is a difficult problem but some, at least, are available.

In the United States, a detailed survey has been made by the U.S. Bureau of Public Health. The conclusions which that body reached for the American farming population are approximately correct for Canada so that the United Farmers of Canada, as a whole, the health of the average Canadian farmer is better than that of his American cousin. If a slight advantage is made for the latter, the statistics can be deemed correct.

"Every man who works on a farm whether owner or hand, is a tractor engineer"—these are the words of a farmer from the U.S. Bureau of Public Health.

He has been studying the subject of farm sickness for nearly a decade with this result: In the last five years, the value of farm lands, therefore, has been lessened one-fourth simply through sickness and unnecessary sickness at that.

"Elimination of this waste," says one editorial comment on the matter, "would involve the difference, on some farms, between happiness and comfort on the one hand and misery and discontent on the other. Think what this means to the farmer and the farmer's wife, as well as the rest of the population. For a part of that fourth the preventable loss may be passed on."

Parcel Post to Australia

The post office announces that parcel post for Australia will be accepted for insurance on and after July 1, 1927, under the same terms and conditions as apply to parcels posted by air to Canada, with the exception that the 3 cent and 6 cent fees do not apply for Australia, so that the amount of insurance fees will be as follows: 12 cents for insurance not exceeding $50; 20 cents for insurance exceeding $50 but not exceeding $100.

Canada's Debt Reduction

Canada's debt was reduced by $42,000,000 during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1927. Thus, while taxation was being reduced, the Hon. James Booth announced, the nation's debt larger than any in its history.

The Voice of Canada

Realizing the Splendid Vision of the Canadian Nationhood

The great task of Canadian statesmanship in this generation—we are always saying this, and it can be no other repeated—is the creation of a national consciousness. What Canada means for the prairie farmer, what it means for the fisherman of the Maritimes, for the habitant of Quebec, what it means for the soldier of old British stock in Ontario, when there are no geographical lines in our politics, and it becomes very much more important to us in British Columbia what is done in Ottawa, than what is done in Victoria—then Canada will be one nation at last. And if we are to realize the splendid vision of the Canadian Nationhood, and if the work of our hands in the building of the Canadian Commonwealth is to be inspired by that vision, it will greatly help us when we find that our public men are informed with this idea.

In Toronto a little while ago, the city gave an official dinner to the delegates of the Union of Quebec Municipalities, and Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, was one of the principal speakers. Toronto is the native home of the British tradition in Eastern Canada, just as British Columbia is its native home in Western Canada. Quebec is the home of the French tradition, a tradition which has its roots in a language which is not English, in a history which is not the forgotten story of the great war in the new world, and in the olden British and French, and in a religious faith which binds its people in a fervent loyalty to the Pope in Rome.

They met, these two traditions, in a meeting between the old and the new, and the old Canada is likely to evoke echoes of the old conflict, that town in Toronto. They met, these two traditions, at that dinner, and this was the manner of Premier Taschereau's recognition of the meeting.

"Quebec and Quebec come together with differences, but time has shown the true spirit which animates all Canadians. So far as the Province of Quebec is concerned, and as far as Confederation as long as it lives. You may be sure that the Province of Quebec will stick to the British flag and the British constitution as long as the British Empire shall endure. The Mother Country may feel sure that the province of Quebec will stick to the British flag, and the British constitution as long as the British Empire shall endure. The Mother Country may feel sure that the province of Quebec will stick to the British flag, and the British constitution as long as the British Empire shall endure."

That was a reassuring voice and a splendid gesture. We should like to think that they were the voice and the gesture of Quebec itself. After all, it should be to believe that this voice of the first citizen of Quebec aroused an answering voice among the citizens of Toronto, and that this was indeed the voice of Canada—Vancouver Province.

The Wealth Of Canada In Mines, Forests And Fields, Is Far Beyond Computation

Wheat Pool Membership

Total Membership in Western Pools is 140,198

Membership of the Canadian Wheat Pool, the largest farmers' cooperative organization in the world, now exceeds 140,000. The Saskatchewan Pool has 82,125 members controlling 18,511,012 acres of wheat and 487 country elevators with a capacity of 17,075,000 bushels. The pool expects to increase its country elevators to 675 this year.

The membership of the Alberta Wheat Pool is now 28,955, with contracts covering 5,847,727 acres, an increase over last year of 2,969 members and 227,041 acres.

The Manitoba Pool has a membership of 19,109, an increase of 2,591 members over last year. Work is to begin on the elevator at Vancouver at a cost of $2,000,000. The pool has decided to build a new 2,400,000 bushel elevator at Vancouver at a cost of $2,000,000. Work is to begin on the elevator at one of its terminals in the province. The pool also expects, by lease from the Canadian Government, a large terminal elevator at Vancouver and one at Prince Rupert, B.C.

The Wheat Pool movement was first organized in Alberta in 1922. The following year pools were formed in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. All wheat is handled by the pools through a central selling agency, with representatives in 51 ports of the world.

Last year the central selling agency sold for members of the three pools over 180,000,000 bushels of wheat and twenty-five million bushels of corn, barley, and had a cash turnover of about $20,000,000.

Farmers From Michigan Michigan farmers are coming to Western Canada in force this year, says F. W. Kerr, Canadian Government agricultural agent at Detroit. Some 250 have already come over and more are about to follow.

It has been said that Canada as a whole is really much younger country than politically. Her more surplus—area of land, water, minerals to three and three-quarter million square miles. The Prairie Provinces, which are nearly 900,000 bushels of wheat and oats as a contribution to the food supply of the world, and little more than one-fifth of the total 2,000,000,000 bushels to be fed for agricultural purposes have been placed under field crops. The remaining four-fifths are capable of sustaining many added millions of population, and they include an immense acreage already ripe for settlement.

The forest areas stand second only to arable lands among the basic resources of the Dominion, and forest industries have been stimulated by agriculture alone in fostering commercial growth. Even the work of the Dominion's forest service, which is nearly 100,000 acres of land, is not complete; at a rough estimate approximately one-quarter (25,000,000) of the total land area in the Dominion is covered by forest growth. British Columbia contains over two-thirds of the Dominion's forest resources. The forest service of the Middle West will probably be required to supply the best demand; two-thirds of the Dominion's forest resources in the United States is either of Canadian manufacture or made from wood or wood products imported from Quebec, Ontario, New Brunswick and British Columbia.

The actual extent of Canada's waterpower, like that of its forests, has been by no means fully ascertained, but the available and developed horsepower (waterpower) is reckoned to be over thirty million, over four and a half million of which are already installed, mainly in Ontario and Quebec. Ontario has the largest hydroelectric distribution system known. The figures show that Canada ranks second only to Norway in her per capita utilization of waterpower and the average is more than three times that of the United States. There are millions of water horsepower now under development about Lake St. John and the Gulfview River in Quebec; while the horsepower of the St. Lawrence, the Nelson and Churchill, to say nothing of those in Northern Saskatchewan and Alberta, run into more millions, which will one day be harnessed and transmitted far and wide.

Few countries possess greater coal resources. Canada's coal is estimated to possess one-sixth of the total amount of coal in the world. Long before the exceptional production stimulated by the war, the Dominion had become the world's principal source of nickel, asbestos and cobalt, and an important producer of gold, copper, lead, zinc and a number of rare metals. Five of the nine provinces of the Dominion share in the mineral industry, although Ontario leads her sisters by a considerable margin.

Not only on the Atlantic but also on the Pacific coast and in her fresh water areas, Canada possesses fisheries of exceptional value. Two of the four great sea fishing areas of the world border on the Dominion, and in addition, her lakes and rivers contain approximately one-half of the fresh water of the globe, while the great inland sea of Hudson's Bay, still partially untouched can be regarded as a reserve. The Atlantic coast line stretches over 2,500 miles, the Pacific alone lines over 2,000 miles; the fresh water lakes of the Dominion contain an area of 229,000 square miles.

Distribute Whitefish Fry The Department of Fisheries announces a distribution of over 72,000,000 fry of whitefish at Lake Winnipegosis, Manitoba, this week, or in an increase of 21 per cent on last year's figure. The fry were all planted out in good condition on suitable grounds in the lake. Over 100,000 whitefish fry were also distributed from Gull Harbor hatchery this spring in Lake Winnipeg, over a wide area.

Birds Ride on Airplanes

Perch on Wings To Save Long and Tedious Flight

Which bird first found out that the aeroplane was a labor-saver for birds will never be known. But it is a fact that birds have been known to perch on the wings of airplanes. This habit has been observed among the flocks of birds flying in the air.

The planes that fly across the deserts of Northern Nevada, in the teeth of the prevailing north wind are most favored by the vespertine. They save a long and tedious flight, and at the end of the journey the travellers arrive fresh and untroubled, with nothing to say.

They show no fear of the birdmen in the cockpit of the plane, recognizing in them fellow aeromaniacs of the air.

Person Most Impressed On

In my other days, I think much of my past. The thing I think most of was frequently I imposed on my mother. She was the only friend I had in the days when I lived like a bound boy in my father's family. Why did I impose on her? I think it was because I loved her, and went to her with my difficulties. We all impose on those who love or admire us. It's a shame, but we do it. —E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Do You Own Thinking

The Gift of Making Up One's Own Mind Is Rare

The ability to make up one's mind quickly and firmly on any matter that is suddenly presented to one is a rare gift. But a capacity to make up one's mind at all is almost as rare.

Many of us who ride carelessly on the waves of the crowd, our excellent physique and condition, allow our mind to become so flabby that it is quite incapable of responding, except to a sudden call on it. We fall too easily into the habit of allowing other people to do our thinking. Instead of disciplining ourselves to our own thinking, we take over views and opinions from others, and don't know what we think of anything until we have consulted some authority on the subject. Our mind is possibly just as good as theirs. Let us keep it up in good going order so that it will respond readily in all the claims we make on it.

Canada's Prosperous Era

The Board of Trade points out that Canada, with a population of 9,500,000, has a mineral production equal in value to that of the United States when its population was 25,000,000. Our manufacturing production equals that of the United States when its population was 25,000,000.

MAYORS EXCHANGE GREETINGS

Mayor R. H. Webb, of Winnipeg, received from Mayor Foster, of Toronto, the congratulations of the Ontario city upon the inauguration of the new across Canada train. "The Confederation" Mayor Webb (right) is seen here receiving the congratulatory message from the hand of William W. Foster, Toronto newspaper editor, upon the arrival of the train at Winnipeg on its initial trip. The City of Winnipeg, in turn, forwarded by the new train, its felicitations to Regina, Brandon, Vancouver and other cities on the route. Mayor Foster in the greeting to the City of Winnipeg said: "The inauguration of this very fine additional service by the Canadian National Railways is evidence of increased growth of trade and travel between Toronto and the Pacific coast, which I sincerely trust will continue to the mutual advantage of both our cities."

A complete survey to ascertain the amount of suitable farming land lying within easy access of the E. D. & S.C. and A. & G.W. railway lines will be undertaken by the provincial government during the present summer and fall in order to secure accurate information as to the potential wealth of the part of the province served by the government-owned railways. This survey will be in charge of Alfred Chard, freight rate and traffic supervisor for the province, who will assemble and compile all available data.
Field men will later be sent out to go over the ground not already covered in the preliminary inspection.
Much information as to the amount of agricultural land available in crown land areas and Indian Reserves will be secured from the files and records of the Dominion Government.

There was a great increase in all branches of civil aviation in Canada during 1926, according to the annual report of the aero branch of the Department of National Defence, which says: "The number of flights made rose 50 per cent, while the flying time shows an increase of 40 per cent over the previous year. The passenger, freight and mail traffic, the area recovered by reconnaissance, forest type sketching and aerial photography, the personnel employed and the number of aircraft registered all show a corresponding increase. The records of the year show that flying carried out for forest protection, air survey, exploration, forest reconnaissance and transportation to the remoter parts of the country has increased beyond the pioneer stage and that given efficient management and suitable types of aircraft, its extension in these fields will come naturally on an economic basis.
